NEW HAMPSHIRE JAIL NOW HOLDS THAW

RUSHED BACK TOWARD MATTEAWAN

ing. They found him up and dressed and about to start on what he calls his day's work. Robertson, a spokesman for the group, told Thaw that he had orders to deposit him to Vermont.

Thaw could not have been more surprised had he been told that he was free. Before Thaw could reply Robertson ordered him to get ready at once for the trip, adding that an automobile was waiting for the dash to the border.

HURDLE BOTTLE.

Thaw's surprise changed to fury in a moment. He refused to go and picking up a bottle hurled it at Robertson. The missile went wide of its target, crashed through a window and broke on the road-way outside. Robertson and his men seized the prisoner and forcibly ejected him from the room.

As Thaw thus unconsciously carried down the stairs to the automobile he kicked and fought his captors, shouting that he was being kidnapped.

Robertson sought to quiet him with assurances that the proceeding was entirely regular and that his crime was being tried. With the prisoner safe, the entire party, policemen and all, entered the car and was whirled away to the border.

A host of spectators gathered quickly outside the building and watched the struggle. Except for the principals, they were the only persons in Chatham, who knew what was going on. None of the lawyers here representing New York state were notified of the plan to deport Thaw, and none of Thaw's lawyers had any inkling of what was in the air. They were dumfounded when they learned later what had happened.

Townsmen unlearned their indignation when the law became general and acquiesced. Hector Verrett, of county for New York state, for an explanation. Mr. Verrett had none to offer. Neither he nor Mr. Jerome, he said, had been told of the deportation plan.

Neither had any part in it, he declared.

Thaw was well on the road to the international line before the newspaper squad learned that had happened. They followed him. He crossed the line near Norton Mills. He was well within the state before the immigration officials stopped their car, deposited him on the ground, told him he was free and drove back to the Canadian border.

Thaw's Automobile Raced Across Vermont Aimlessly

(By Associated Press.)

RECHER, N. H., Sept. 10.—Facing across northern Vermont to an automobile with the newspaper correspondents, Harry K. Thaw crossed the Connecticut river at 10:10 a. m. today, and stopped for while at West Newbury, N. H.

On reaching Norton Mills, Vt., where he had been taken by the Dominion immigration officials, Thaw entered the correspondents' automobile and proceeded on to Averill, a small village, where he breakfasted.

Engaging another car, the Mattewan fugitive and the correspondents passed through Canaan and then crossed the river into New Hampshire.

Thaw's haste to leave Vermont probably was due to his knowledge that his deportation was being waited for him and he was likely to be arrested.

Up to the time he crossed the Connecticut river on his step to interfere with his flight was taken, and he believed that the Vermont and New Hampshire authorities had not been informed of his removal from Canada.

These knew his route perfectly, apparently having studied it in detail before leaving Mattewan.

New York Issues Requisition On Vermont for Thaw

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—A requisition on the governor of Vermont for the return to New York of Harry K. Thaw was signed by Acting Governor Glynn today in a dispatch to the Vermont governor.

Mr. Glynn was advised today of the latest move in the Thaw case, but did not know where he was.

clined to comment on it. Superintendent John B. Kiley, of the state prison department, expressed surprise when informed that Thaw was in Vermont.

"I hope he will be in Mattewan by night," he remarked.

William J. Jerome and Deputy Attorney General Kennedy sent the night at Manchester, on their way to Albany.

Later a representative of the attorney general's office succeeded in locating Mr. Kennedy at Manchester, and he was informed that the move of the immigration officials today was a surprise.

Both Kennedy and Jerome, they had expected that nothing more would be done until September 16.

All Governors Asked to Have Thaw Arrested

(By Associated Press.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Acting Governor Glynn today sent telegrams to the governors of Vermont and New Hampshire asking that Thaw be held pending action by the New York authorities.

Attorney General Carmody sent a similar message to the governor of Maine, as the Massachusetts authorities would be notified.

Thaw's Lawyers Are Astounded at Move

(By Associated Press.)

MONTREAL, Quebec, Sept. 10.—Members of Thaw's family and his lawyers here were dumfounded when they learned that the fugitive had been deported.

"I am simply paralyzed," said J. N. Greenhalgh, K. C., Thaw's chief counsel. "I cannot understand. With a writ of prohibition and habeas corpus, it seems to me to be utterly impossible to believe. It is all beyond me."

It certainly is a disgrace to the country, and to our administration of the law. All we can do, if Thaw has been forced across the line, is to bring Robertson back into the country.

The assistant superintendent of the immigration department, before the court of King's bench; but what good will that do us?

Mr. Greenhalgh received a telegram from Thaw's secretary, notifying him that Thaw should be taken to Norton Mills, Vt.

W. K. McKewen, another of Thaw's counsel, said: "Deportation of Thaw, in the face of the writ of habeas corpus, certainly looks like contempt of the court of appeals."

Before hearing that her son had been deported, Mrs. Mary Cooper Thaw issued the following statement:

"This purpose deferred visit of myself and younger son, J. C. Thaw, as well as the second visit of my daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Carnegie, are purely family matters, prompted by affectionate interest in the son and brother, H. K. Thaw."

Canadian Officials Confer And Deportation Results

(By Associated Press.)

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 10.—Hon. C. J. E. Bouchey, minister of justice and attorney general, conferred with the Canadian minister of the interior, who was in conference for several hours yesterday afternoon with E. L. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice, and Hon. Arthur Meighen, solicitor general, on the legal aspect of the Thaw case. It is believed that the result of that conference had a direct bearing on Thaw's unexpected deportation this morning.

Minister Signs Order For Thaw's Deportation

(By Associated Press.)

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 10.—H. D. Doherty, acting minister of the interior department, today said he had rejected Thaw's appeal from the decision of the immigration board of inquiry, upholding the findings of the board ordering the deportation of Thaw forthwith.

This order was carried out this morning. The writ of habeas corpus or writ of prohibition issued at Montreal, said Mr. Doherty, did not explain the immigration authorities from taking this step.

BAPTISTS OF EATONTON START ON NEW YEAR Reports of Work During Last Pastoral Year Show Much Progress

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

EATONTON, Ga., Sept. 10.—Last Sunday was a big day for the Baptists of Eatonton. It marked the closing of a new pastoral year and reports were being made by the different departments of the church showing the progress which the church had made.

Just one year since Rev. Alex. W. Bealer, the pastor, took charge of the church, and such has been the cooperation given him by the members that the past year has possibly been the most successful in the history of the body.

MUST GET O. K. NOW FOR BUYING CITY GOODS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

ROME, Ga., Sept. 10.—Charges of extravagance and mismanagement in the various departments have resulted in the city council requiring the heads of the various departments to secure the O. K. of the chairman of council committees before making any purchases.

In the past it has been the habit of the superintendent of public works, the chief of the fire and police departments and other department heads to make such purchases as they thought necessary without consulting any of the council.

The resolution as first passed applied only to the superintendent of public works, but later was amended to include heads of all departments.

MUTUAL RELATIONS AND INTERESTS OF THE BELL SYSTEM AND THE PUBLIC

The suit brought by the United States questioning the purchase of certain telephone properties in the northwest, as well as the pending Interstate Commerce Commission telephone investigation, have caused many inquiries.

Without taking up anything going to the meeting of these proceedings, it has seemed to us proper to state generally what has been our policy and purpose in the conduct of our business.

We have found, or thought that we had, that our interests were best served when the public interests were best served; and we believe that such service as we have had has been because of the public interest.

We believe that our company has an interest as vital as that of the public in the maintenance of a high standard of service, and that the problems of electrical inter-connection, the success and prosperity of our company depend upon a solution of these problems which shall be sound from both the standpoint of the company and the public which it serves.

Following our own best judgment, supplemented by the best obtainable advice, we have endeavored to do what we believe to be the public interest, wherever possible our plans have been disclosed to the public in advance, and we have been open to public criticism.

Our business methods and policy, and the results of our business, are matters of common knowledge and are, for the most part, well known to the public. We will willingly furnish the government any additional information it may require.

We believe that if each of our exchanges were made an independent unit and if each connecting line were put under a separate control, the result upon the telephone service of the country would be a condition so intolerable that the public would refuse to submit to it and would immediately require such physical connection and common control of the various units as to amalgamate them into a single system.

Physical connection in the case of telephone exchanges does not mean the sending of messages from one line to the other. It means such a connection as will permit the user to have the actual possession of the particular line of communication from one end of it to the other.

In this connection, and for general information, we will restate the policy and purpose of the Bell System, and the Bell System, and our belief as to what a telephone system should be, and what are the relations to the public.

We believe in and were the first to advocate state or government control of the telephone service, and we believe that the public interest is best served by such control.

We believe that the public interest is best served by such control, and we believe that the public interest is best served by such control.

ADAMS DENIES HE IS IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

Says the Story Which Came From Gainesville Was Hatched Up by Enemies

Gainesville, Ga., Sept. 16, 1918
 Editor The Journal, Atlanta, Ga.:
 The story in the Atlanta papers, under Gainesville headlines to the effect that I will be a candidate for congress from the 12th district, is a gross mistake. I am a native Georgian and Hoke Smith will stump the district for me, as is his pure and simple, hatched up by a few soreheads who wish to make it appear that Senator Smith is going to interfere in local politics in this district.
 I have no idea of running for congress, have never spoken or conferred with anyone on the subject, and, indirectly, about making the race, and those hatching up the story evidently did it knowing I was a factor in the matter.
 The papers are in no way responsible for the story.

HUGS AND KISSES WILL

BE THEME OF POLICE

The Kiss in Theoretical and Practical Phases Threshed Out at Meeting Tuesday

Kissing, its value, its merits, its uses and its effects, its benefits and its dangers to the municipality and the individual, were discussed at length on Tuesday night by the twelve members of the police board, assembled for their monthly meeting.

The debate will be continued on the night of Wednesday, September 17, where Tuesday night, after two hours' talk, the board didn't really arrive anywhere in its discussion.

Former Captain J. W. Norman, sixty-three years old, a member of the police force for thirty years, announced of the proper conduct in embracing and kissing women while on duty in front of the board. He said that he had never been arrested for kissing a woman, but he would not be arrested until next Wednesday at the special meeting when he would be called to testify against him. He has retained an attorney, Lewis T. Smith, to defend him before the board and it was on the request of the latter that his trial was over. An unusually large crowd which had gathered to hear the charges against the policeman was disappointed.

During the course of the meeting, Mayor Woodward took advantage of the fact that the board was assembled on their stand on kissing. One of the members of the board, who was named Williams, arrested on the capital steps with a young woman, was called to the stand and told that he had returned by the city. The board refused to act on the suggestion, however, until Eliza Clark, Officer Clark and Wheeler, who made the arrest, told their version of the affair. They will be present at the special meeting to tell just what prompted them to take the couple into custody.

The disorganization of the plain clothes "vice squad" was also discussed by the mayor as a means of cutting the expenses of the department. He said that he had been told that the squad was not doing its duty.

"They are not doing anything to help," he remarked.

Commissioner Colored during the discussion of the point.

The deficit was found to be an oversight on the part of council and Commissioner Colored promised to have it righted at the next meeting of the aldermen.

When Commissioner Johnson made a motion to revise the rules, Mayor Woodward declared, "You don't need any more rules. You have too many already. What the force needs is a little instruction on the code."

At the conclusion of the meeting, Police Commissioner J. C. Johnson, purging the spirit of the evening, facetiously withdrew his invitation to members to come to the park.

During the present period of "safety" into which our city has suddenly been plunged, I shall have to withdraw my invitation to couples to go to the parks and spoon, or if they do come for that matter, I suggest that they do so with a competent witness to testify as to what occurred. I do not think that a regular policeman on duty in the parks would arrest a couple for kissing, but there is no telling when a plain clothes officer will take notice of a couple kissing through the park in search of these offenders upon our streets and boulevards.

When the case of former Captain Norman was called on, the board was told that the Norman was arrested on August 8 and on August 25 the officer had been guilty of kissing a woman in the park and otherwise neglected his duty by failing to conduct unbecoming an officer.

"To some of the charges I plead guilty and to others not guilty," he replied in answer to a question of Chairman Mann, of the board.

At this point Attorney Thomas interrupted the proceedings, saying that he had been retained to represent the policeman by Mrs. Norman and that the policeman had been greatly worried since the publication of the charges against him, involving his future as an officer after more than three years of service and his good name, and that he had not had time to prepare his defense.

The charges against Mr. Norman are too vague and indefinite," remarked the attorney. "I think he should be allowed to know the name of the woman he is accused of kissing."

Discussion of the advisability of drawing the woman's name out of the case followed. Mayor Woodward instructed that the woman's name be drawn out and that the woman's name be drawn out and that the woman's name be drawn out.

Several of the witnesses called to testify have already made statements of alleged impropriety to the press and have been on the part of the police. There are in the possession of Chief Stevens, Fritz Ritter, a reporter, it is said, has stated that he saw Norman reclining on the grass in the sun light of a shrubbery. Nelson Carter, according to the police, will swear that he saw Police Norman and a woman seated in a swing for nearly an hour on Tuesday night.

Shelby Mills and O. A. Moore, both of 105 Park avenue, will testify, according to reports, that they saw Norman and a woman reclining on the lawn of the park.

Charles C. Howell, it is reported, will swear that he saw the two together on a bench for three hours one night. He will testify, it is said, that former Captain Norman went to a call station three times to call the station house and return at intervals of an hour during this alleged session.

Other witnesses who will testify to alleged misconduct are: Pauline J. L. Whitley and S. T. Boyd, W. H. Turner, Morris V. Williams, Neil George Chapman, J. M. Camp, William White, William Williamson and Fred

BOARD OF EDUCATION

TAKES OPTION ON LOT

Old Nal Property on Moreland Avenue Will Be Used for School Overflow

At a meeting of the board of education held Tuesday afternoon in the office of Superintendent of Schools William M. Sloan, it was unanimously decided to take an option on the old Nal property at 44 Moreland avenue, returnable March 1, the purchase price being fixed at $10,000.

The building has been used as an overflow school building and the rent being paid now will be applied to the purchase price when the option is formally taken up and the deal consummated.

The board agreed to allow children from DeKalb county to continue to attend the old Highland Park school, in view of the fact that it was put up for the county by private funds, though later taken over by the city.

Formulation was granted the Atlanta park board to lay out a tennis court within the Oakland City school and the school authorities were also authorized to rent a cottage in East Atlanta to take care of the overflow scholars in the fifth and sixth grades.

RAILROADS WOULD AVOID POSSIBLE CAR SHORTAGE

Statement From Southern Offices Says Roads Should Get Busy

Railroads are doing everything possible to avoid a car shortage during the coming rush season, according to a statement issued from the offices of the Southern Railway company Wednesday morning. The statement follows:

"While the conditions throughout the southeast, during the fall and winter are indicated by the action of the railways of the section in calling upon shippers to aid them in maintaining an adequate car supply during the crop moving season, Atlanta has a heavy demand for cars. The railways are themselves doing everything possible to increase their car supply. Steps are being taken at full capacity to put every available car in repair and car builders are being urged to turn out new equipment as rapidly as possible. Steps are also being taken to provide for the most expeditious handling of cars at terminals and in yards.

"While the railways are making these preparations for the rush of heavy business, it is recognized that shippers can assist in the greatest measure by making and unloading cars as promptly as possible, thus avoiding unnecessary detention of cars and by loading cars to their full capacity. As an adequate car supply is so important to shippers and the general public as it is to the railways, an appeal is being made to shippers individually and through trade and commercial bodies to aid the railways in their effort to meet the maximum efficiency in the use of cars."

Famous Frank Case Given To Public in Book Form

Atlanta Publishing Company Issues Volume Describing in Graphic Form the South's Most Famous Murder Mystery-Book Was Placed on Sale at Local News Stands Wednesday

"The Frank Case" is the title of a paper-bound volume of 144 pages which reached The Journal from the press of the Atlanta Publishing company Wednesday morning. The book, which the author says is a detailed and faithful account of the south's greatest murder mystery, will be placed on the news stands for sale during Wednesday. Its price is twenty-five cents.

In twenty-two chapters the book deals with Mary Phagan's murder in the National Penitentiary on April 26, the mystery which surrounded her death, the efforts of the city and police detectives to find the slayer, and the final conviction of Lay M. Frank, the young superintendent of the factory.

The Frank case is the greatest mystery of the south and probably no other case ever attracted and held the interest of the Georgia public as did this mystery. If the author has made the most of his subject he should have a story more gripping than is found between the covers of most novels.

"In no other murder case," remarks the author in his preface, "has there been such intense interest. It became more than a mere murder mystery; more than a story of a man of position charged with slaying in a useful passion a little factory girl."

In his preface the author states that he deals with phases of the case heretofore omitted or avoided and has endeavored at all times to handle all of the numerous angles of the case fairly and without favor.

"The story of the fearful crime," continues the preface, "of the principal developments of the four months that followed it, and finally the story of the great trial, where for a solid month the two greatest criminal lawyers in the south battled against the keen wit of Atlanta's newspaper men, have all been told in the newspaper. Many of the interesting features of the case—those which made it more than a murder case—have never been told to the public because the subject was too delicate."

Bakers Fight Over Possession of Pie

Syrian Bakes Delicious Pastry, Negro Hooks It, Fisticuffs Follow

Steel Rich, a Syrian pie maker, and Ed Harper, a negro baker, were before City Recorder Broyles on a charge of disorderly conduct growing out of a fight which followed the disappearance of a pie in a bakery where both are employed at 231 Peachtree street. The former was fined $10.75 and the latter $10.75.

Rich, it appeared from the evidence, had been entrusted with the manufacture of a number of especially delicious and tempting pies Tuesday. He made just enough to fill the order. Harper, who, through constant association with lumpy pastry, is somewhat of an epicure, spotted the improved pie and, like the Knave of Hearts and the tarts, stole the pie and away he ran.

He secreted the delicacy beneath his bread bench, where it was found some time later by Rich, who, bent on solving the mystery, was led to the spot by the rich demanded his pie. Harper refused to give it up. A scuffle followed in which the pie and Rich's face both suffered considerably. The latter told Recorder Broyles that fifteen pieces of court plaster glued advantageously over various parts of his body concealed teeth marks made by Harper.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 77

Parks, Policemen, Purity

Atlanta is not sex-mad. Your daughters are safe in the city parks. Proper Police Protection will be given Girls and Children.

Of certain men, Peter said: "These, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of things that they understand not—" "Spots they are and blemishes—" "Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin—" "Which have forsaken the right way—" "While they promise liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption."

Such men are still here. But—God be praised! The growth of knowledge among all classes is making it harder for this type of men to live.

A short while, and they will have disappeared; for men are thinking; and, where men think, the man who favors moral corruption has to go.

Watching makes life impossible for him. Hence, he always favors a corrupt police force. An honest policeman, LIKE CHIEF BEAVERS, backed by an incorruptible police court judge, LIKE JUDGE BROYLES, means the undoing of such a man.

Therefore, a fight to control the police force and limit the power of honest officials is inevitable in every city. Cities of America and the World are today looking to Atlanta.

For here our police force is controlled by its Chief. And he has put an end to PROTECTED VICE. Men under him are safeguarding the public.

For over a year they have kept vice on the run. Further, they are protecting girls from beasts that prey. They will continue this.

For Atlanta is too small and YET TOO BIG to shelter men of that type. You understand.

To publish the girl's name in the newspapers to the world was cruelty, but to arrest her when found late at night in a compromising position with a man in the Capitol entrance was merciful.

What might have happened! Had it been your sister—if it were your daughter, you would have thanked God for the arrest and have acknowledged your eternal obligation to the officer who made it.

People think. THEY SEE THE TRAGEDIES which lie beyond these supposed kisses! In "Unmarried Mothers," an article recently published in Harper's Weekly, Edith Livingston Smith says.

"A girl stays innocent until she is awakened. 'It is the kiss, the touch, the sense stirred, that make her, in the glory of her womanhood or in her shame, acknowledge her sex."

"Our cities are full of mere children, who have felt the glow of freedom and the necessity of toil.

"Our factories and shops are run by them. "It is but natural that they should obey the call of the times; but they leave their toys and their spelling books to go into wage earning competition, where life crowds and entices, enchants, dominates AND SOMETIMES KILLS.

"Whose fault is this?" Nicholas Vachel Lindsay sings:

"She was taught, desire in the street, Not at the angel's feet, By the good no word was said Of the worth of a bridal bed. The secret was learned from the vile, Not from her mother's smile. Home spoke not. And the girl Was caught in the public whirl. 'In Liberty's name we cry For these women about to die. What shall be said of a state Where traps for the white bride wait? Of affairs of drink who play The game for extra pay? Of statesmen in league with all Who hope for the girl-child's fall. Of banks where Hell's money is paid And Pharaohs all afraid Of madness that help them die? When will our wrath begin?"

Thank God, IT HAS BEGUN in Georgia. Our Legislature, just adjourned, in no uncertain terms gave notice to the world that our representatives have regard for the welfare of the girl.

But there are those who would stand idly by while girls were being destroyed in the very shadow of the Capitol's dome. Again we thank God, for these are in the minority! And they do not, cannot control Atlanta's police force.

The city is awake. Another effort to undermine Chief Beavers— Another attempt to fly-blow a policy of decency and public purity has failed.

Again today Jesus is saying: "Blessed are your eyes, for they see and your ears, for they hear." Policemen will continue doing their duty in Atlanta. And YOU will uphold them in it.

The New Dancing Frocks of Accordion Pleated Chiffon

To be fashionable, even a dancing frock must be tube-like. There's mental comfort in its narrowness. To do a "tango" there must be yet a little more than tube dimensions--for body comfort and the grace that follows, and so the fortunate frock is that one full of accordion pleats and yet not voluminous, even to the most watchful eye.

These are the ideal dancing frocks showing here today--this early day of fall.

They blossom in pretty candle-light yellow, shell pink and "baby" blue chiffon, and there isn't anything and "baby" blue chiffon, and there isn't anything

CRACKERS IN BENEFIT AT PARK WEDNESDAY

Game Is for the Benefit of the Club Which Worked So Hard to Bring a Pennant to Atlanta Fans

The last chance to witness a baseball game at Atlanta fans on Wednesday night is the Crackers, who are playing the Atlanta Braves. The game is for the benefit of the club which worked so hard to bring a pennant to Atlanta fans.

The Atlanta club has been divided into two teams. The first team is the Crackers, who are playing the Atlanta Braves. The game is for the benefit of the club which worked so hard to bring a pennant to Atlanta fans.

The admission is just 25 cents and any fan in the club can afford to pay this amount to get a good seat. If you can't go to the game, go to the ballpark and get a ticket as a souvenir.

A FEW NOTES

No matter which way they go, whether it be up to 100 or down to 100, neither Jackson nor Cobb seems able to shake the other. The minutes are long to those who are sitting on the bench.

Speaking of the crucial series, it is here again. This time it is between the Yankees and Braves. It is a real rivalry for the series.

Charles copied the lead on Tuesday night and was not away. The minutes have been running lately, and it looks as if he would finish seventh.

It is a strange sight to see a series of errors in the error column of the Yankees. The Yankees' error column is showing.

The lawn tennis finale for the third night, as well as the challenge round, will be played on the lawn at Wimbledon. The final match will be between the two teams.

ANOTHER "INVICTUS." Colonel Travis might also sing with the late Mr. Henley—
It matters not how straight the way,
How charged with punishment each frame;
I am master of my pony,
I am the captain of my gear.

A man's friends are often his worst enemies, as one man has said before this. One of Chick Evans' friends stuck in three additional punters. If Chick couldn't use one, how the deuce could he use four?

The Giants start west with a lead in the vicinity of eight games. Whatever the other details it strikes us here that the Phillies are the ones to worry.

On the other hand it is generally the other way around. The bloke on top has it and might lose it. The worst that can happen to the pursuer is that he doesn't lose what he hasn't got.

TECHNICAL DECISION. Over that protested Giant-Philly game the National league board of directors, it is got that close, might decide to send the Giants back to play out that last inning. If this happened would Doolin have to send the Phillies in to pitch and McGraw use the same batting order that was up at the time? And what about a renewal of the hat and handkerchief brigade in center field? We raise. The National league board of directors are the ones to employ what better is attached to this smear.

The Giants in the last month have lost fifteen points to the man in button. At this rate by October 6 what will the rival comparison be via Collins, Baker, McInnis, etc.?

Colonel Murphy is quoted as saying that Johnny Devers did well enough with the material he had at hand. Yet we indistinctly recall a modest murmur from the Coliseum last spring that said material was "the best ever delivered on a ball field."

On the other hand if Johnny put a club in third place that was generally picked to finish fifth, where is Fred Clarke with a team in fourth place generally picked to finish first? And who is there to suggest that Fred Clarke isn't still something of a manager, as managers go?

Joe Jackson may still be deficient in certain branches of higher literature but could Arnold Bennett or Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler drop below Ty Cobb and then dash on past him again at the edge of the stretch?

Langford Earns Handsome Pay

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight boxer of Boston, earned $1,000, his guarantee, in thirty seconds last night by stopping John Lester Johnson, who is said to be the heavyweight champion of South Africa, in that time.

From the moment Langford stripped for the bout, which was scheduled to go ten rounds, Johnson showed fright, and when the men were called into the ring, the South African circled away from his opponent. Langford landed a left to the stomach and in the clinch sent half a dozen jabs to the back, the last of which sent Johnson down for a count of eight. As Johnson struggled to his feet, Langford rushed and Johnson fell without receiving a blow. On again getting his feet, Johnson was rushed into his corner, where Langford landed a blow to his left kidney and the South African went to the floor and was counted out.

Johnson, as he started to leave the ring, appeared "paralyzed or frightened, or both, and leaned heavily on the ropes. Langford's weight was announced as 185 and he appeared to be in fine condition. Johnson weighed in at 175. This was Langford's first appearance in a New York ring in three years.

Pelkey Admits Big Frame-Up

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—Arthur Pelkey, the heavyweight fighter whose victory over Luther McArthur in a California arena was followed by the latter's death, has parted company with Tommy Burns, his manager.

Immediately after cancelling his contract with Burns, Pelkey gave to a Portland sporting editor a signed "confession" in which he declared that he and Burns faked their six-round fight at Calgary March 26 last. Pelkey alleged that Burns took advantage of the fact that he was penniless and induced him to "frame up" the match, and that they rehearsed the battle closely in a corner.

"I could have whipped him easily," was Pelkey's statement. "But he wanted to make a good showing before his friends and he made me take two knock-downs to me for him. We rehearsed every move for a week in the garage at Burns' house and we got away with us take all right, but the crookedness of it has been hurting me ever since. It was the only time I didn't fight on the square and I shall never do another crooked thing in my life."

Pelkey asserts that he never has had a fight with Jack Johnson in Paris, the frame-up proceeding to convey invitation to clash with Johnson for large sums were crooked up, he said, for Burns.

BURNS DENIES CHARGES. CALGARY, Alberta, Sept. 10.—Tommy Burns last night characterized the Pelkey confession as "a lie" and declared that the fight on March 26 was "framed up."

"The fight was on the level," declared Burns. "Although I believe that I could have put Pelkey out in the fourth round, I did not want to."
